

The Wickford C of E is joining the Little Free Library Project!

The Free Little Libraries have been well received and are founded on a book share scheme, of taking a book and leaving one behind. There are thousands across the world from an idea that originally started in one garden in America. There are Little Free Libraries popping up all over the country so that communities can share their love of reading!

We want to have our own Little Library here at the Wickford C of E. Mrs Hall wants the children's help to design it. We would like you to enter your designs into a competition. The winning designs will be used by Mrs Hall to decorate the shell of the library like the ones above.

You can include patterns, pictures or words that represent our school and community. What is that makes our school special? What do we do at school? Think about our HEARTS values.

You can use pencils, crayons, paint or oil pastels to create your designs

The deadline for entries is Thursday 24th May. (The last day before half term)

Please use the template attached.

We look forward to receiving your designs.

Mrs Hall
